7. What are your thoughts now on using Blogs? Have they changed?

Comments 1. I am aware of the simplicity of creating a blog
2. Not suitable for my work at the mo, but will definitely consider in future and pass on to my colleagues. 3. I use one for helpdesk staff at work and agree totally with usefulness and keeping people informed, cutting down email use. 4. Yours is an example of a really effective use of blogs, I still think there are a lot of bad blogs out there giving them a bad name. 5. It does look much easier than I'd thought, I will give it a try when I get back. 6. I will have a go. 7. Yes, statistics use looks good. 8. More motivation now to pursue them in the workplace. 9. Will definitely start one now. 10. They are definitely the way forward! They need to be included in Information literacy training.
